

Rumblings

Mount St. Helens Institute eNews

June brings the summer solstice and the first days of summer. While things are heating up in the Monument, we're still seeing snow on top of the volcano. Fortunately, one of our lead guides has created a short video on glissading to help you out. Read on to learn more about the exciting programs taking place this summer at Mount St. Helens.

As always, we remain steadfast in our commitment to bring the volcano to people around the world while improving equity in accessing science, the outdoors and public lands.

Donate to
MSHI

---

Climb Mount St. Helens
With a Professional Guide and Naturalist

This climb to the rim of Mount St. Helens offers an amazing opportunity to reach the top of the Pacific Northwest's most spectacular volcano and learn about the area's natural and cultural history in the comfort of a guided group.

To the Summit

---

Together We Move Mountains

Donate today and your gift will be matched up to $7,000

We are hearing from a lot of teachers that throughout the COVID pandemic science education is sometimes being put aside in lieu of other priorities.

Your gift today will help provide personalized online science field trips and curriculum to K-12 students and teachers AND it will be matched up to $7,000. Thanks to Mary and Jerry Sauer and two donors who wish to remain anonymous, you will double your impact.

Teachers have so much on their plates, but especially right now. The good news is that you can help!

Please send a gift by June 15th to help elementary school students and teachers.

Donate

---

Volunteers Head Back to the Mountain!

Volunteers are heading back out into the field for the 2021 climbing season. This year sees the return of many long-term volunteers and 59 new sign-ups. Mountain Steward training is set to take place this week and boasts 96 participants. If you're interested in volunteering with MSHI you can learn more by visiting our website or contacting Sarah, our Volunteer & Community Engagement Manager.

Volunteer With Us

---

Hike Harry's Ridge on an MSHI Eruption Hike

Traverse a high ridgeline in the heart of the blast zone and hear first-hand accounts of the eruption on May 18, 1980, 41 years ago. We will hike up to Harry's Ridge, named after the lovable curmudgeon who lived along Spirit Lake, where a clear day reveals the breathtaking panorama of this active volcano. Participation in this hike includes entry to the world-class Johnston Ridge Observatory visitor center.

Sign Up
Today!

---

Book a Private Family Adventure at Mount St. Helens

Explore a unique side of Mount St. Helens with your family or pod through guided trips led by the Mount St. Helens Institute. Whether in winter, spring or summer Mount St. Helens has stories to tell! Our private family adventures are designed to inspire your curiosity about Mount St. Helens and increase your comfort exploring the outdoors. Trips are for groups that include youth under the age of 18.

Learn
More

---

Do You Know How to Glissade?

Despite the time of year, we're still seeing fresh snow on the summit of Mount St.

Helens. Make sure you and your climbing partners check current conditions before you go, and please enjoy this instructional video from our Lead Guide, Taylor, explaining how to glissade safely and effectively.

Glissade With Me!

---

Thanks for reading. If you have questions please contact Jared.

Donate Now

---

Mount St. Helens Institute

